The Sequence of play

On your turn, you will draw one card, and then play one card (placing it in the discard (trash) pile. Normally, you will choose to play this card for its effect, but you may simply discard a card with no effect if desired.

Counter cards (with the blue arrow icon) are the only cards that can be played when it's not your turn. Counter cards affect certain Attack and Rescue cards as they are being played. Only one player may play a counter card in response to an opponent's play. If two or more players try to play at the same time, only the player who played first takes effect and the other player puts their card back in their hand. Immediately replace the counter card with a new one from the deck. The player who played the counter card is now the active player and begins a fresh turn.
